Living and working with other people, in multicultural environments, in positions where communication is important and situations where teamwork is essential (for example culture and sports), etc.

I always worked in group, because i think that a team work it is a better work. I have envolved myself in every team work i know, because i like to work and espacilly i like metting new people. I have meet a lots of people from different cuountries: hunagry, columbia, uk, frence, spain, portugal, japan, india and i always had a very good relationship with them most of them are my friends. My implication in different projects taught me what a teamwork means, i learned that it's easier yo work with someone then alone.
